Instructor's Notes

Earthquake and Tsunami

True or False

True or False: A series of statements that can each be judged as either “true”, meaning correct, or “false”, meaning incorrect..

Lesson Plan:

- The instructor will hand out copies of the provided Living on Shaky Ground magazines and the Earthquake and Tsunami True or False sheets.
- The students will work as a class or in small groups to use their copies of Living on Shaky Ground to answer the true or false statements.
- If completed as a class, the instructor should bring attention to the realities that contradict the false statements in order to emphasize the important of accurate information during the discussion (see below).
- If completed in small groups, the class will come together to discuss the true or false statements, during which the instructor can provide any needed clarity and assistance. The instructor should bring attention to the realities that contradict the false statements in order to emphasize the important of accurate information (see below).

*The instructor is provided with an answer key.

Explanations of False Statements:

- You can surf a tsunami.
 - Tsunamis are not surfable. Surfers will have no control of their board. A tsunami has no wave face for a surfboard to grip and the water is often filled with debris.
